FORUM SERIES

Pearl's all new Forum Series drums feature select hardwood shells protected by an extremely durable high gloss synthetic covering material. New clear heads, totally redesigned hardware, and newly redesigned bass drum spurs have been added to Forum's already long list of outstanding features. Forum Series drums produce a warm tone with cutting attack, excellent volume and supreme projection that is perfectly complemented by a great sounding chrome plated steel shell snare drum. For sound, quality, performance and price, Pearl's Forum Series drums offer a value that simply can't be matched.
